Near Surface Geophysics Subscriptions 2015

EAGE is a multi-disciplinary geoscience association with around 18,000 members worldwide. The association organizes workshops, conferences, educational programmes and student programmes, offers recruitment opportunities and publishes several scientific journals, including Near Surface Geophysics.

Print & online access!

Near Surface Geophysics is an international journal for the publication of research and development in geophysics applied to near surface.

It places emphasis on geological, hydrogeological, geotechnical, environmental, engineering, mining, archaeological, agricultural and other applications of geophysics as well as physical soil and rock properties. The journal is published six times a year.

With an institutional subscription to Near Surface Geophysics you will receive a print copy of the journal every 2 months. Your company or university also gets access to the complete Near Surface Geophysics archive which is available on www.nearsurfacegeophysics.org and on EarthDoc (www.earthdoc.org): EAGE's online geoscience database. EarthDoc is an extensive source of knowledge, containing around 55,000 event papers and articles of scientific journals such as First Break, Petroleum Geoscience, and Journal of Environmental & Engineering Geophysics.

Special offer: Free access to Near Surface Geoscience event papers!

Subscribe to Near Surface Geophysics now and get full access to all event papers of the past eight Near Surface Geoscience events! The event papers will be available for downloading on EarthDoc (www.earthdoc.org).
